BASE BALL.

Big "Cy" Swalm, hailing from the Tuscarawas, where "Cy" Young, the Cleveland giant, also saw the first light of day, is to twirl for the Washingtons this season, and his admirers in the town of the Inter-state league will watch his work with a great deal of curiosity. Wheeling fans remember well the day when "Cy" first appeared before them. It was on the fatal Fourth of July, '95, when the Wheeling and Train Cities were cracked up against each other for two games. "Tolly" Kane, then the idol of the cranks, won both games, pitching ball that has not been seen here since. "Jack" Darrah was smarting under the defeat of the morning, and when Kane walked into the box for the afternoon game he was sure the Bellairs boys' curves would be found good and hard by his heavy hitters. But they were not—Bowerman, Gallagher, Reid, Shaw and the other stars of the Twins were knocked over like so many tinpins before the great "Tolly." Darrah was desperate, and as a last resort sent Swalm out on the coaching lines, standing a foot 7 inches and slim and again, Swalm cut a superbly ridiculous figure and got such a geyring from the bleachers that he finally retired, without having, as Darrah fondly hoped, rattled Kane.

Last year Swalm was with Fort Wayne, and under the tutelage of Tread and Catcher Greiner, cut quite a figure among the Inter-state twirlers. Swalm very seldom let himself out for all the speed that he possessed, for none of the catchers could hold him at his fastest. Jack Glasscock saw the boy at work last fall and was eager to sign him for St. Paul, but offers from Louisville and Washington dangled the young fellow and St. Paul lost a twirler whom many predict is going to become a second Rube.

From the interest that is taken in the Wheeling team so early in the year, it is easily seen that a successful season is in prospect providing the team that has been gathered by Harrington and Coyle cuts the figure that is expected. If it doesn't—well, Wheeling never could stand a second and it may be Wheeling's fate to land there. However, the chances are that the Nollers will be very much in evidence in the front rank.

Manager Torreyson, of Dayton has signed another man, making twenty men now under contract. The latest man to be secured is Charles Michael, a pitcher, who was with the Reading, Pa., team of 1896, and is pronounced a very promising man. He gave his attention to bicycling last year instead of ball playing, but now comes back to his first love. All the men signed for the Dayton club were sent letters on Saturday notifying them to report April 1 for duty. The Terra Haute team, which plays its first games with the Daytonians in an exhibition series, will be assembled in Dayton at the same time and open on April 3 for three days. The town will be full of ball players the first week in April. The uniforms for the team will be, for home, of gray, trimmed in white. When away from home the club will wear a uniform of navy blue, trimmed in black. Across the breasts of either uniform will be the name of the club in white letters.—Dayton News.

SPRINGFIELD'S TEAM

Has a Lively Lot of Youngsters.

Harry Rinehart, who will manage the Springfield team in the Inter-state league, has signed his team, which is as follows: Catchers, James Stevick, of last year's New England league; Frank Williams, of last year's Niles, O., team; pitchers, Ben, Holland, of Toledo; John Sowers, of last year's New Castle team; George Fenmore, of last season's Portland, Ore., team; and Whitridge, of last season's Indianapolis team; Corran, of Washington, first base; Miles, of Toledo, second base; Murray, of Bryan, O., third base; Farrell, of New Castle, shortstop; and, left field, Vetter, of Toledo, center field, and Martin, of Washington, right field.

Fenmore, who is a new man in the league, played with the Portland, Ore., team last season and won forty-two out of forty-nine games he pitched. The uniforms of the team will be navy with black trimmings away from home.

The question of Sunday ball playing in Springfield is as yet undecided. John Good, who is a stockholder in the team, is a candidate for mayor, and if he is elected there will be Sunday games.

MAY GO TO ST. LOUIS

Possibility of Cleveland Players Going to St. Louis.

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—The outcome of the Sunday ball question will decide whether the Cleveland team will remain in this city another year or not," said President Frank De Haas Robinson yesterday afternoon. "I have been represented as making such statements as in the form of threats, but that is not the case. I am confronted by a simple business proposition, and I propose to meet it in a way best suited to my own interests."

While Mr. Robinson declines to say what he intends to do with the club, a plan was outlined to a correspondent today by one very close to the throne. It is said that the other members of the league team are willing to give something to get Cleveland out of it and have the splendid Cleveland team located in a well-paying city. It is known that Von der Ahe, of St. Louis, is ready to give up at any time, and would jump at the chance to get out of the hole that his losing team has put him in. Louisville, too, has been struggling until it is ready to drop, and from these facts conclusions are easily drawn. The league, it is said, would gladly buy two cheap franchises for the sake of getting the two teams out of it as sureties were given that the winning Cleveland team would be placed in St. Louis. With ten clubs in the circuit there would be just 12 games more to divide up in good paying cities than with twelve clubs in it. Then, too, some other clubs where a good team would pay could be strengthened from the Louisville and St. Louis teams. It may be stated plainly and forcibly that this very scheme was largely what

JAPANESE COLONY

In Mexico—A Concession Secured from the Government.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 24.—A. E. Lomile, the Mexican consul in this city, who has just returned from the city of Mexico, states that his government has conceded a large tract of land in the state of Chihuahua, South Mexico, to a Japanese syndicate represented by Shio Nemoto, who was in San Diego a few months ago with Sy Asano in connection with the trans-Pacific steamship project. At that time it was stated that Asano would visit New York and London to purchase steamships and carry out his plans in this connection and that Nemoto would turn south to the city of Mexico for the purpose of securing a tract of land for a Japanese colony. It now appears that Nemoto has carried out his part of the program, and that before long the Japanese will be building houses and breaking soil in their new territory. The port of the proposed colony is Santa Cruz the terminus of the Japanese steamship line, but whether the main steamers will run there or only to San Diego, with a side line to Tahuanepac, has not yet been decided.

AMUSEMENTS.

It has been said that the legitimate is dead, and that the day of the Shakespearean drama has long since passed. This is in a measure true. The day of the one time "legitimate" production with its carefully rehearsed stock companies, poor costumes and the bare scenic settings provided by the provincial theatres of the country has passed we hope forever. But in its death a phoenix has arisen from the ashes and from the grave of the old time production "dramatic company" composed of an organization of one that will appear here at the Opera House Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, with Saturday matinee. In support of the young American tragedian, Elithu R. Spencer. Mr. Spencer, who will be favorably remembered as the brightest of the triple galaxy of actors, Hanford, Spencer and O'Brien, who made such a successful impression at the season, is a young man destined to occupy a high rank among American actors. In the prime of youthful manhood, flushed with the fires of genius he embodies the spirit of progress along the legitimate lines of dramatic impersonation. His lago is a masterpiece of Macbethian cunning, his Shylock, a Jew who will linger in the memory of all who witness it, and his Romeo, a true type of the impassioned young Veronese lover. Mr. Spencer is supported by a magnificent company comprising twenty artists of well known ability, including Mr. Frank Hennig, for the last fifteen years the leading man with Thomas Keene, and a well known Wheeling boy, and Miss Isabel Pengra, a former talented member of Charles Frohman's forces.

Mr. Spencer presents each play on a magnificent scale, carrying a load of complete and magnificent scenery, consequently each drama is a masterpiece in the nature of a complete production. He will be seen here Friday evening as lago in Othello, at the Saturday matinee as Romeo in Romeo and Juliet, and Saturday evening as Shylock in The Merchant of Venice. Saturday matinee 26 and 27 will admit to all parts of the house.

Change of Time.

There will probably be a change of time on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, to take effect next Sunday. The change affects trains on the northern end of the road. It is not known whether there will be a change in the through passenger trains.

Little Akerstrom.

Miss Akerstrom, a company has caught on to the popular taste, as is attested by the enormous audiences at the Grand at each performance. The very clever melo-drama "A Little Busy-body," was produced last night, with a good scenic display and the interest never flagged for a moment. Miss Akerstrom in the third act gave a good bit of character work as an idiot boy. J. C. Applebee, a miserly old villain, who would do anything for money, sustained his character. S. DeLoyn, his accomplice in villainy, was very good. Ed McHugh and Jules Van Cook had the comedy roles as Aunt Dinah and Rastus Hervey, and they make a deal of fun. This is one of the most evenly balanced companies that has ever appeared in this little theatre. To-night "A Beautiful Slave," with a strong plot and special scenery. Friday, "Nan, the Beggar's Daughter." At the matinee on Saturday, the laughable comedy, "The Sultan's Daughter."
